Newspapers across Minnesota provide a public forum for criticism, comment, ideas and community conversation. They strive to keep an eye on powerful decision makers while drawing attention to their successes and failures in hopes of creating better, stronger communities.

So rock out in your heroic garb and spread the word—knowing you truly make a difference.